Jacques “Jack” H. Radermacher

March 26, 1937 - December 27, 2024

Jacques H. Radermacher, 87, passed away December 27, 2024. He was a 1st generation immigrant, who moved to Chicago, Illinois after being born in Belgium on March 26, 1937.

During his time in Belgium, Jack served as a member of the Belgium armed forces, and played semi-professional soccer. His most fond memories of Belgium included biking through the country side on his motorcycle, and spending time with his family.

Upon moving to Chicago, Jack met his one and only love Janina, to whom he was married to for over 50 years. Together Jack and Janina had a son named Kenneth Radermacher. He was a grandfather to three grandchildren as well; Marc, Raquel, and Briana Radermacher.

Jack was a devoted Chicago sports fan, with the Chicago Cubs being his favorite team to root for and watch.

He also spent a lot of his time speaking with God, and on Sunday's volunteered as an usher at St. Francis Borgia Roman Catholic Church.

He was an active member in his community, and constantly walked around the block he lived on to check in on his neighbors, and was referred as the mayor of the street he lived on. Jack was as selfless as they came, and at any given moment if his son and his family were in need of help, he would provide in anyway he needed too.

Jack is survived by his wife, son, and grandchildren. He will be remembered for providing for his family till the day of his passing, and for loving his family more than anything in the world, especially his grandchildren.
