“ I remember seeing my mother kneeling at the side of her bed and praying aloud for each of her children and grandchildren. That memory is forever etched in my mind and I will never forget sensing a strong presence of God through her intercession. I came away with a sense of reverential fear and trust that no matter what would happen to any of us, God would honor her prayers on our behalf.

“ Hi phyllis, yesterday was Thanksgiving and I was an emotional mess because I think about my dad and you and how much you are both missed. I want you to know that I am holding Thomas down because he has not been the same since you left. Thomas tries to please everyone but the truth is he can't. I love your son so much that it hurts. I hate to see him sad and in pain but mishu always makes him feel better with his little sad puppy dog eyes. I have been going to church like you asked and I have been giving Thomas time and not bugging him but I need you to give him that lil extra push to go to church. I know he needs to be in church so he can Let Go of all his worries. I am going to ask Tim to go to church on the next Sunday Tom has b off. They will like the church I picked and it's a non demoninational church. Phyllis you are deeply missed and loved. I made cheesecakes for Thanksgiving and cried a lil bit because I know a piece of my husbands heart is gone and will never be replaced. I love you phyllis and miss you terribly. Tell my dad I miss him and please continue to be my angel and protect me and can you please continue to walk with thomas and guide him. Love and miss you

He is doing much better now. He is so spoiled he follows me everywhere I go and sleeps in the bed with me all day. He was hanging out with me all day the other day. But I went somewhere and I couldn't take him with. So he stood at the door waiting for me. Nennie took a picture and sent it to me. I was cracking up. Yeah I had a car accident the other day and hurt my neck and back. It was crazy because Mishu was with me,think God he protected us. It could've been alot worse.
