“ Grandma was filled with so much faith and strength. I always remember going to her house and her making rice for Elijah and I. I would always offer to vacuum her floor and she would give me a few dollars lol. She always had a smile on her face whenever I would see her. I couldn't quite understand what she would be saying because some of the words she would use were in Spanish. but what I could understand, was that she was an incredible woman, and was always compassionate and so hardworking towards everything. She truly was one of God's angels.

“ Mami was a beautiful woman on the inside and out and had strong family values and a legacy that she built into the lives of her children throughout the years. I have the honor of being married to her baby boy, Edwin. From the first time I met her, she always had a kind word and shared love and concern for everyone that crossed her path,. She made me feel as though I was her own daughter. We shared some great times and laughs over the years, shopping at the "segunda" and finding "treasures" together (one of her favorite places)!. Providing for her family was very important to Mami, and seeing as I married her baby boy, I wanted her to know I would always take good care of her son. Since Mami and I enjoyed good food and cooking, we shared great times together by spending time going to the supermercado and bringing the items home, and she would school me in the lost art of "old school" Puerto Rican cooking. And now because of her, I will continue to pass that heritage along to my children and to their children. Mami loved a good family get-together and we would always talk about upcoming family parties and the food that would be there and who was going and how nice it was going to be. Mami, you are up in Heaven today in the presence of your Lord and with the angels, at the biggest celebration and homecoming with the Family of God that you could ever have imagined, rejoicing at the bountiful banquet table He has prepared just for you (save a pasteles and some sopa de salsichon for me)! Don't worry about your baby boy and your grand-babies down here - they will be well taken care of - you taught me well! I will see you on the flip side Mami!

“ Mis mas sentido pesame en este tiempo tan dificil. Aunque llenos de tristeza, podemos descansar en la paz que nuestro Padre Celestial nos da, sabiendo que Dona Rosaura esta en la presencia de su Santo Padre. Dios los bendiga a todos.
